

2025 FEDERAL PRIORITIES

1 Education Choice for Children Act

Parents are demanding more education options. Pennsylvania's tax credit scholarship program has a persistent waiting list. A federal scholarship program will help families gain access to quality nonpublic schools, no matter their address.

2 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act Renewal

Without an extension, tax cuts from the TCJA will expire in January 2026, including higher income tax rates, a lower child tax credit, and the elimination of full expensing for certain capital investments. Pennsylvanians experienced an average tax cut of $1,169 in 2018 and the creation of 8,700 new jobs in the first year.

3 Energy Affordability: End the LNG Pause Repeal the EPA Power Plant Rule

Energy production in the United States has been crippled by destructive policies. President Trump ended the Biden LNG export pause, which chilled plans to build a new LNG terminal in Philadelphia. Pennsylvania is the top state electricity exporter, making repealing the EPA Power Plant Rule a critical next step for reliable, affordable energy.

4 Regulatory Relief: Permitting Reform and REINS Act

Federal permitting quagmires are especially harmful to Pennsylvania, where fully subscribed pipeline capacity prevents gas from getting to market. Reform like the REINS Act is key. The act requires Congress to approve major federal agency rules and rules with an impact of $100M or more before they take effect.
